

As an Executive Director of a professional association I am very much opposed to the proposed fax rules as written. My members have voluntarily joined our association and as part of that membership we regularly send them fax communications. We should not be required to attain further "permission" to communicate with our own members.

The fact that they have joined the association should be evidence enough that they are willing to receive fax communications from the association.